Roles and Responsibilities

1.0 Board of Trustees

Trustees of an academy trust are both trustees of The King's School charity and directors of The King's School Company limited by guarantee. The Charities Act 2011 defines charity trustees as the people responsible under the charity's governing document for controlling the administration and management of the charity, regardless of what they are called. They are known collectively as the Board of Trustees (BoT) – also referred to as the "Board" in this document.

1.1 Legal duties of a trustee

Under charity law, The King's School trustees have the ultimate responsibility for directing the affairs of The King's School, and ensuring that it is solvent, well run and delivering the charitable outcomes for which it has been set up. In law, trustees of The King's School have several legal duties, which are often described as those of compliance, care and prudence.

1.2 Duty of compliance – trustees must:

- ensure that The King's School does not breach any of the requirements or rules set out in its governing document, funding agreement or the Academies Financial Handbook and that it remains true to the charitable purpose and objects set out there
- comply with the requirements of other legislation and other regulators which govern the activities of The King's School
- act with integrity and avoid putting yourself in a position where your duty to the charity conflicts with your personal interests or loyalty to any other person or body.

1.3 Duty of care – trustees must:

- use reasonable care and skill in their work as trustees, using their personal skills, knowledge and experience as needed to ensure that The King's School is well run and efficient

- Negotiation and diplomacy skills
- Good understanding of the legal responsibilities of the Board as both individuals and a corporate entity
- Strong communication skills

3.6 What are the extra time commitments?

The expectation for charity trustees is that the time commitment should be between 10-20 days a year, with the chair of the Board being at the upper end of the time commitment. There are many similarities between chairs of trustee boards and charities (indeed academies are charitable companies) so you should aim to keep your commitment at or below the 20 day limit. If you are finding your commitment is significantly more than 20 days then it may be productive to sit down and work out what you are spending your time on, whether it is strictly necessary and/or whether it can/should be delegated to someone else.

Trustees' Code of Conduct

4.1 Roles and Responsibilities

- We understand the purpose of the Board and the role of the executive leaders

- We will encourage open governance and will act appropriately
- We will consider carefully how our decisions may affect the community and other schools
